This workshop is targeted for health researchers interested in adding a historical component to their work. The discussion will focus on history's lasting impact on health as well as strategies for addressing the limits of archival research.

Facilitators: Marissa Nichols and Octavia Vogel
Location: Emory Student Center, Room S301; lunch provided with registration
Please RSVP here by 10 am April 1st
Virtual: https://zoom.us/j/94482632970