

EMORY NURSING

Award and Honors

Awards:

Brittany Butts was selected to receive the CVSN Best Abstract Award by the American Heart Association's Council on Cardiovascular and Stroke Nursing (CVSN). Dr. Butts received the award at the organization's 2023 Scientific Sessions following the presentation of her proposal, "Sex Differences in Relationships Between Inflammation and Symptoms in Persons with Heart Failure."

Quyen Phan received a "Healthcare Hero" award by the Vietnamese American Healthcare Professional Association of Georgia on October 28, 2023

Honors:

Jennifer Adamski will be honored by the American College of Chest Physicians & Women in Chest Medicine Leadership, which recognizes CHEST leaders, who are distinguished individuals whose contributions to medicine, pursuit of innovation and commitment to cultivating the next generation of clinicians are widely known.

Stacy Buchanan has been accepted as a member of the 2024-25 class of WHEA Teaching Fellows

Elizabeth Downes has been certified as a Global Nurse Consultant by the International Council of Nurses. As a result of this recognition, Dr. Downes joins a new body of senior nurses who will be a powerful accredited resource of nursing expertise - accredited by the world's pre-eminent credentialing body - CGFNS- to contribute to nursing leadership capacity worldwide and serve as a crucial resource for ICN's 130-plus member National Nursing Associations (NNAs). - <https://www.icn.ch/how-we-do-it/certified-global-nurse-consultants>

Appointments

Dr. Susan Brasher has been invited by the Georgia Department of Public Health Autism and Developmental Disabilities Program to serve on the Steering Committee for Transition to Adulthood in Autism

Phillip Davis was appointed chairperson of the national finance committee of the American Academy of Emergency Nurse Practitioners

Bethany Robertson was appointed to co-lead the Innovation Collaborative for the American Interprofessional Health Collaborative (a new collaborative for AIHC). AIHC is the membership arm of The National Center for Interprofessional Practice and Education

Grants

Ms. Cammie Wolf Rice from the Christopher Wolf Crusade, Dr Mara Schenker (SOM) and Nick Giordano (SON) recently received funding from the NFL to conduct an RCT on the use of preoperative meditation to optimize postoperative outcomes for sports medicine patients that was featured in the Emory Student Newspaper!

<https://emorywheel.com/nfl-awards-emory-200000-grant-to-research-pain-management-strategies/>