Heads up on 2022 Recruiting!

We are excited to share that we have many full time opportunities for advanced degree students! If you are pursuing a PhD, Postdoc, JD or medical residency or fellowship and anticipate completing your program later this year through September 2022 (or 2023 for MDs), we encourage you to apply for the Associate role by June 15th for interviews later this summer and early fall.

Interested in our Campus Tech Roles? More information will be shared in the coming weeks on our Data Science, Software Engineering and Data Engineering positions for 2022! Application deadline for these roles will be July 19th for interviews later this summer and early fall.

Parenthood at McKinsey!

We are very proud of our firm’s commitment to supporting parents and those thinking about becoming one - including family planning resources, flexibility programs, and top-notch health & leave benefits. If you’re interested in learning more, please join us on Wednesday, May 19th from 1 – 1:45pm EST. for an "Ask Me Anything: Parenthood at McKinsey" virtual session. Consultants will discuss how they leverage the above, and make parenting work in their own homes.
McKinsey Sector Spotlight

Tired of the same old information sessions? So are we!

Instead, we invite you to take a peek inside the industries and sectors we serve and how we support our clients, some of the world’s most innovative and influential organizations, perform at their best. There’s no limit on how many sessions you can sign up for, so enjoy!

Wednesday, May 12th, 1pm ET: Oil & Gas

McKinsey brings an unparalleled depth of experience from decades of work in the world’s major energy hubs. We have led projects in a variety of topics, including portfolio strategy, regulatory and policy making, commercial excellence, contracting and trading, capital productivity, organization, and digital and advanced analytics.

Tuesday, May 25th, 3pm ET: Healthcare Systems and Services

The HSS practice serves private and statutory health insurers, hospitals, large physician groups, employers, national health systems, government entities, and large employers on topics that will provide opportunities for our clients to achieve substantial, lasting improvement in their performance.

Tuesday, June 8th, 6pm ET: Pharmaceuticals & Medical Products

The PMP practice serves leading global institutions on the most critical challenges they are facing in the pharmaceuticals, medical products and biologics industries, whether it be by maximizing commercial value, helping to build R&D capabilities, driving opportunities across the value chain for generics, or helping clients to transform their medical affairs function.

Thursday, June 24th, 6pm ET: Public & Social Sector

Public and Social sector organizations are key to societal and economic progress and well-being. We work with social sector and government organizations to deliver Change that Matters to citizens, driving transformations that have significant, positive impact on society. Our focus has been on Education, Economic Development, Public Health, Philanthropy, Cities & Infrastructure.
